Requirement: By January 30, 1982, and biennially thereafter, the Director of the National Science Foundation shall simultaneously transmit a report to the Congress, the Attorney General, the Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy, the Chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Education, and the Secretary of Health and Human Services. The report shall contain an accounting and comparison, by sex, race, and ethnic group and by discipline, of the participation of women and men in scientific and technical positions; an assessment, including quantitative and other data, of the proportion of women and minorities studying scientific and technical fields, including mathematics and computer skills, at all educational levels; and other data, analyses, and evaluations deemed appropriate by the Director, acting on the advice of the Committee on Equal Opportunities in Science and Technology. Abstract: The report begins with a descriptive overview of the employment of women and minorities in science and engineering and highlights differences in employment patterns between women and men and between whites and racial minorities. The second chapter is more analytic and reviews a series of indicators–such as unemployment rates and salary differentials–of relative labor market conditions for scientists and engineers. Differences in these measures between men and women and between whites and racial minorities highlight possible inequities in labor markets. The final chapter examines the issue of equity with respect to the acquisition of science and engineering (S/E) skills. Data are presented on the number and proportion of women and racial minorities earning degrees in S/E and on the acquisition of mathematics and scientific skills by women and racial minorities prior to college entry.

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / May 29.
OMB Funding Code/Title: 67-0201-0-1-154 / Salaries and Expenses
Congressional Relevance: House Committee on Foreign Affairs; Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.
Authority: Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Year 1976 (P.L. 94-141, § 401(a); 89 Stat. 763; 22 U.S.C. 966(e)).
Availability: Agency
Geographic Relevance: National

Requirement: The Secretary of State shall transmit a report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations by May 29 of each year describing the steps he has taken to carry out provisions for the assignment of Foreign Service officers to public or private nonprofit organizations and to Members and offices of the Congress under the Pearson Amendment Program. Abstract: The Pearson Amendment Program provides for a substantial number of Foreign Service Officers to be assigned in the United States or any of its territories or possessions for significant duty with a State or local government, public school, community college, other public organization, or the office of a member of the Congress. These assignments are intended to involve the officers in issues and activities which will increase their substantive understanding of current trends in and problems of American society. The report includes identification of the organization to which each such officer was assigned during the past fiscal year, identification of the officers so assigned, identification of the position within the organization filled by the officer, and a short description of the duties and responsibilities involved in each assignment. Projected new assignments or extensions for the coming fiscal year are identified by organization only.

Authority: Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961 (P.L. 87-256, § 108(b); 75 Stat. 534; 22 U.S.C. 2458(b)).

Requirement: The President shall submit annual reports to the Congress of activities carried out and expenditures made in furtherance of the purposes of the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, as amended. Each report shall include the texts of agreements made with other countries during the period covered by the report and a full description of the program and the funds expended with respect to each country in which activities have been carried on pursuant to the act. Abstract: This report includes background information on the scope and relevance of the United States' International Educational and Cultural Exchange Program and on progress which has been made during the past year in relations with both individual countries and with geographic areas of the world. Particular program areas, such as participation on drug abuse prevention and control, and in environmental and urban projects, are discussed. Recent thrusts of the program are identified and the support of other nations for such exchange programs is discussed. A summary of exchange opportunities, both in the academic program and in other programs, is presented, and major cooperating agencies, boards, advisory groups, and commissions are identified. Data are provided on the number of exchanges with each country over a period of several years, identified by the type of exchange as well as by total exchanges; the total number of grantees during the past fiscal year; the distribution of grantees in the United States; the fields of specialization by category of grantee; the sources of funds programmed; the total funds obligated; the countries with cost-sharing agreements; and the expenditures, by country, under the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act.

Requirement: The Director of the International Communication Agency make an annual report to the Congress with respect to his activities relative to the Center for Cultural and Technical Interchange between East and West Act of 1960. The East-West Center was established to promote better relations and understanding between the United States and the nations of Asia and the Pacific through cooperative study, training, and research. Abstract: This annual report on the East-West Center includes overviews by the Center's president and each of the vice-presidents; reports on each of the problem-area institutes; and reports on open grants, the office of administration, and the office of publications and public affairs. Individual reports on the East-West Communication Institute, the East-West Culture Learning Institute, the East-West Food Institute, the East-West Population Institute, and the East-West Technology and Development Institute are included. These individual reports each include an overview of the purpose and program of the institute; identification of the visiting researchers and fellows by name, organization, and area of research; professional development activities conducted by the institute; identification of degree students by name, country, degree sought, and major field; identification of degree students in field education programs; publications by staff and fellows of the institute; information on resource materials collection; and identification of staff. The open grants division provides flexibility for the Center to invite professionals, scholars, and students whose interest lie outside the scope of the problem-oriented institutes. Data are provided on the visiting researchers and fellows, degree students, field education, publications, seminars and discussion, and staff of the open grants program. The report of the Office of Administration includes data on appropriations, a balance sheet, a statement of current fund revenues and expenditures and changes in fund balance, personnel hires and terminations, and staff. The report of the Office of Publications and Public Affairs includes listings of the books produced by the Center, informational publications, program publications production by institute, and staff.

Congressional Relevance: Senate Special Committee on Aging.
Authority: Requested by the Senate Special Committee on Aging.
Availability: Senate Special Committee on Aging

Abstract: This report provides information on mail fraud activities, especially in relation to elderly customers. The Mail Fraud Statute provides a fine of $1,000, or five years imprisonment, or both, for any use of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to obtain money, or property, on the basis of fraudulent representations. Two administrative-civil actions are utilized by the Inspection Service to combat mail frauds. The Postmaster General may return to sender any mail destined for concerns whose advertisements contain misrepresentations. A companion statute provides for the withholding of such mail from the recipient by court order. A new protection program has been implemented to assist in unsatisfactory mail order transactions, which provides for direct contact with the mail order houses to relieve the complaint. Mail fraud schemes particularly enticing to the elderly are: business opportunities, chain referral schemes, home improvement, land sale swindles, matrimonial schemes, medical frauds, solicitation of funds, and work-at-home schemes. Summaries of format, and Inspection Service statistics are provided for each.

Requirement: In any case in which the amount included in the President's Budget for any fiscal year for expenditures for contract dental care for veterans is not in excess of the level of expenditures made for such purposes during fiscal year 1978 and the Administrator of the Veterans Administration determines after the date of submission of that budget and before the end of that fiscal year that the level of expenditures for contract dental services during that fiscal year will exceed the 1978 level, the Administrator shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of the Congress containing both a justification of the level of expenditures and an explanation of why that level of spending could not be avoided. Abstract: This report states that when the budget for fiscal year 1980 was being prepared, analysis of workload trends indicated that dental outpatient care for veterans was gradually declining. However, impiementation of Public Law 96-22 created new categories of beneficiaries which increased dental workloads significantly. These new beneficiaries cannot be treated without compromising obligations to hospitalized veterans. Therefore, the level of expenditures for contract dental care in 1978 must be exceeded in order to provide services to the new classes of eligible beneficiaries.

OMB Funding Code/Title: 95-0700-0-1-376 / Salaries and Expenses
Congressional Relevance: House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs; Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs.
Authority: Voluntary.

Abstract: Part I of this report provides a review of national productivity and its effect on the economy. The recent changes in, and long term challenges of productivity are discussed in depth. An analysis of the background for possible policies to increase productivity is made for the private sector and the Government. Part II summarizes the activities and progress of the Commission whose efforts are concentrated on 1) the morale and quality of work of the American worker, 2) the international competitive position of the United States, 3) the efficiency of government, and 4) the cost of those goods and services which fulfill the most basic needs of Americans. The benefits of labor-management committees, and of four work quality programs, are being studied. The Commission worked extensively to increase productivity and quality in the private sector with the food, transportation, construction, and health care industries, and on productivity in Federal, State, and local governments. A comprehensive program was initiated to publicize the Commission's goals and efforts.

Data are listed for each country by programs, with cumulative totals provided. All countries receiving any type of loans or grants since July 1945 are included, regardless of whether or not the particular country received assistance under the Foreign Assistance Act and antecedent legislation. A supplement is included showing assistance received by each country from international organizations. It should not be confused with contributions to multilateral organizations, which are included in the totals of U.S. grants.

part of a comprehensive congressional sunset review of CFTC which led in late 1978 to passage of the Futures Trading Act of 1978 and reauthorization of the CFTC for 4 years. While acknowledging the accomplishments of the CFTC, the report showed that much remains to be done to fully implement the mandate and congressional intent of the 1974 act which created the agency. The report pointed out that, to enhance Federal regulation of the futures markets and to promote effective industry self-regulation, CFTC needs to correct weaknesses in such program areas as contract market designations, rule enforcement review, abusive trading practices, registration, customer claims, and market surveillance.

Requirement: The General Accounting Office shall evaluate the activities taken by the Small Business Administration to achieve the purpose of encouraging the placement of subcontracts by businesses with small business concerns located in areas of high concentration of unemployed or low-income individuals, with small businesses owned by low-income individuals, and with small businesses eligible to receive contracts pursuant to P.L. 95-507, sec. 637(a). It shall also evaluate the success of these activities in achieving intended purposes. GAO shall report to the Congress by January 1, 1981, and at any time thereafter at the discretion of the Comptroller General, on the findings of this evaluation and shall make recommendations on actions needed to improve the SBA's performance pursuant to these activities. Abstract: Public Law 95-507 amended sections 7(j) and 8(d) of the Small Business Act to emphasize the use of subcontracting as a method of promoting the long-term viability of small and small minority businesses. SBA is authorized under section 7(j) of the act to provide financial assistance to large businesses for the purpose of training and upgrading potential small and small minority subcontractors. Although SBA has had this authority since 1967, S. Rept. 95-1070 states that it generally had not been used. An Advisory Committee was appointed by the President to assist SBA in implementing the provision of the Public Law. The Congress has given SBA the primary responsibility for ensuring compliance by Federal agencies with the subcontracting provisions of section 8(d). We believe the Advisory Committee should be kept informed of Federal compliance with this section so that it will be in a position to suggest ways to make it more effective. However, greater attention needs to be given to promoting subcontracting opportunities for small and disadvantaged firms outside of Government procurement.
